Presentación

I'm an iOS developer with expertise in SwiftUI, focusing on mid-level development. I have a comprehensive background in multifunctional project management, handling tasks from project inception to completion. My experience spans across integrating Apple Maps, CoreData, Firebase, AWS Cognito, RESTful APIs, dependency injection, and more. With a robust skill set and hands-on experience, I bring a valuable contribution to projects seeking seamless iOS app development.

Five flames mobile

March 2023 – Today ( 1 year+)

Since March 2023, I've been working at Five Flames Mobile as an iOS developer, focusing on Swift programming within Xcode. In this role, I've been responsible for the entire app development lifecycle, from data modeling to implementation. Projects have included integration of mapping features and various authentication systems such as Cognito and Firebase. My work environment primarily operates in English.

Astibot

May 2019 – October 2019 (6 months)

From May 2019 to October 2019, I worked at astibot as a frontend developer. My responsibilities included utilizing Angular, html and css mostly. Then I decided to part ways, to keep learning and improving.
